

Pratham UK - Bringing literacy to the children of India

Pratham UK

Charity Event to help bringing literacy to the children of India

There are 210 million children in India and almost half are illiterate and uneducated. The international charity Pratham has set itself the ambitious task of helping to eradicate illiteracy amongst 100 million children in India by 2010

Pratham UK was founded in 2003 by volunteers who wanted to help make a difference through educating children. As an overseas chapter of Pratham India, Pratham UK focused on fundraising and awareness of Pratham's work. All funds raised by Pratham UK support Pratham's work in India. Pratham UK works to engage the UK community by holding fundraising and awareness building events throughout the year.

The next high profile charity event, an Indian Summer Garden Party, is taking place on Sunday 28th of June 2009. This is going to be an evening when you and your friends can enjoy Indian culture and at the same time increase the life chances of Indian children

The event will be held amongst the enchanting splendour of the Chelsea Conservatory and will be an exotic evening of entertainment and mouth-watering delicacies of Indian fusion cuisine prepared by renowned caterers.

This gala evening, with high profile attendance and entertainment, is priced at £150.00 a ticket.

If you cannot make the event you can still help. A small donation can make a large difference, for example just £15.00 a year can teach the children of an entire village to read.

For more information about the Summer Garden Party, to book tickets, or to make a donation visit www.pratham.org.uk